

title: God out of the Machine time: Written in the summer of 2003

theme: Inspired by the crucifixion of Christ

In this book old it seems it will be Something more something else
We shall see
I tried to drink the blood from your wound
"no but first you must try the spear on first"

Are we all to fall apart

I close the door but cannot seem to lock it still I slam it once twice three Now it's still
How does it feel to be the one to drive the spear
It passes through alone to the side of fear.

Are we all to fall apart.
